

Today ILNA's principal goals are to promote the hobby among the young, serve the membership and hold a three-day show and convention each year. Our association at present has 374 paid members as well as 28 local clubs around the state. One of our programs, through a capable board is to furnish speakers when requested, to local clubs. A digest is published four times a year, which contains various articles on numismatics by capable writers, as well as advertising and other pertinent material about numismatics and the association. Show dates and other material for local member clubs are also published. We make programs available for schools, Boy Scouts, and Girl Scouts upon request. We hold a youth auction at our State show to further the collecting interest of that age group. We have begun giving a free youth seminar scholarship to ANA summer program. Our commitment to the next generation is to hopefully start them collecting at a young age for a life time of enjoyment.

Help from our membership is appreciated at all levels even if it is only paying dues on time. Donations of numismatic material for various programs would be greatly appreciated. As would monetary donations to fund YN programs. Our board and officers for the most part, receive no pay and it is mainly their dedication that keeps our organization alive. Our main expense is printing and mailing the Digest four times a year. As a member, what do you want to get out of ILNA? It depends, what you are willing to put into your state organization. We are growing bigger and better each year. Tell your numismatic friends about us.

The ILNA Coin Digest is published quarterly and contains news and information about numismatic events in Illinois. There are articles about coins and the President of ILNA updates the membership on activities of the Board of Governors. We are proud that our Digest is a recognized National Award Winner because of its quality format and content

ILNA ANNUAL Show/Convention

Every fall of the year our association holds a coin and currency show in St Charles Illinois at the Pheasant Run Resort. Leading dealers from around the county come together in the Mega-

Center Convention hall for 3 days and trade with other dealers and collectors. It is a comfortable setting to hold a great show. At the same time Educational Exhibits aown and Guest speakers are presenting topics that the collectors need to hear. A youth program is also conducted with an auction.
